3. WHAT IS THIS PRODUCT?

TYPE

Minor Rolling FX Spot is a contract for difference with underlying currency pair, where the profit it to be secured or loss avoided by reference to fluctuations in an underlying currency pair, such the U.S. Dollar (USD) against the Russian Ruble (RUR), referred to as USDRUR. Visit <http://ntfxpro.com/en/trader/contract-specifications/specifications/> for further information in relation to the underlying currency pairs available. CFD FX are Over-The-Counter (OTC) financial derivatives, not admitted to trading on organized trading venues. The positions you are taking in those derivatives can be covered by the Company with other brokers (so called A-Book) or kept with the Company (B-Book). Forex CFDs rely on leverage (ex., in case of and investment of EUR 1000 and leverage 1:20, you can open positions of the size up to EUR 20 000)

OBJECTIVES

The objective of the CFD for an investor is to receive profits from changes in exchange rates in the Products' underlying currency pairs. Due to high possible leverage(1:20) the small short-term changes in exchange rates can result in substantial profits in case the investor has taken position in his favor. The opposite is also true – in case the investor was wrong about the future rate movement, the losses can equal to all the capital invested.

THERE IS NO RECOMMENDED HOLDING PERIOD for the CFD, however, very short holding period (less than 2-3 seconds) can be considered as non-appropriate. Due to the overall size and nature of the Forex market it is very liquid, and you can close your trade anytime. Holding period may vary depending on your investment strategy, however, please note that overnight positions are subject to rollovers (swaps), as mentioned in point 6, which can decrease possible income or increase possible loss. The general recommendation is to use perform intraday trading with CFDs for currency pairs.
